COUSIN CREEP

THE doorbell clanged loudly several times and Janie struggled up from the deep sofa, slinging her book to one side and licking the remainder of a chocolate-covered caramel from her fingers.

"O.K., O.K. I'm coming," she mumbled, disgusted with this second interruption in the middle of her new who-done-it thriller.

"Conway?"

"Janie Conway is the name."

"That's good enough for me. Sign here,"the Western Union boy said with a toothy grin.

"O.K., Tom Sawyer, thanks," she said, almost closing the door on his eager outstretched palm.

Janie debated for a moment between the telegram and the murder mystery, and decided in favor of the telegram.

It read: "Coming for the week-end. Sorry about the short notice. Love, Robert Prescott Harper, III."

"Huh. Robert Prescott Harper The Third, like he was the King of England or somethin'. Always trying to put on the big show."

Janie thought of the prospect of giving up her room once again to her cousin. The last time was three years ago when he tried to lord it all over her because he was going to be a "Harvard man" the coming semester. She knew that now he would be too unbearable to tolerate for a day, least of all a whole week!

"Oh-h-h," she groaned. "Why do people have to have cousins?"

As she suspected, her room was converted into guest quarters for her cousin's visit. She protested to deaf ears and finally threatened to stay with Midge, but Mr. Conway put his foot down and demanded that she try to act like a lady for a change.

Midge, to Janie's horror, was fascinated when she learned that Robert Prescott Harper, III, a full-fledged "Harvard man" was coming to visit his aunt.

"But Janie, how exciting!" she exclaimed.

"Yeah? Wait. Just wait."

"Oh, you're just mad because you have to give up that precious room of yours. Perhaps you could talk him into taking me to the Junior Jump Saturday night. Wouldn't Carol Palmer just turn emerald!"

"No, it's her natural color," Janie replied with an indifferent shrug of her shoulders.

"You'll be sorry, but I'll see what I can do."

The next afternoon, Robert Prescott Harper arrived with five suitcases and a small overnight bag. The overnight bag contained his clothes. The other five bags were packed with records.

"I am a be-bop and jazz enthusiast," he explained to his astonished relatives."Most people listen to music emotionally. This is entirely the wrong approach if you wish to understand it. Be-bop particularly is a subject of serious study."

"Oh, I see." Mr. Conway said with a somber shake of the head.

"This is the end!" Janie cried and flung herself on the couch holding her head dramatically.

"My dear child, I couldn't possibly expect you to understand these things," her cousin replied with a tolerant glance.

"Whatta ya mean? Listen, I've got the biggest record collection of anybody in our crowd," Janie retorted.

"Yes, but that does not mean that you are not a "square" or a "creep" if you perfer."

"Please, you two," Janie's mother interrupted. "Let Bob take his things upstairs and get washed for dinner before you get into any arguments."

"So, I'm a "creep", huh?" Janie stood at the bottom of the steps, her hands planted firmly on her hips, yelling loudly at the authority on jazz as he ascended the steps.

At the top of the stairs, her cousin turned around, looked above the rims of his tortoiseshell glasses and down his long

COMPLETE 4 PIECE MATCHED SET OF LUGGAGE

IMPORTED AND MASS PRODUCED TO MAKE THIS PRICE POSSIBLE

nose, and said:

"If you please, Janie, "cousin creep". In the world of bebop, everyone is related to everyone else. We're ALL cousins, whether we like it or not!"

That evening after dinner, Cousin Robert closed himself in his room to "study". After listening to the strange sounds coming from her room for an hour, Janie could stand it no longer. Her curiosity got the best of her. Mustering courage, she knocked timidly at the door.

"Yes!" her cousin responded sharply, obviously annoyed by the intrusion.

"It's me. Cousin Jane." That-'ll do it, she thought. He'll see I'm catching on and will let me in.

"Yes, I know who it is," he yelled through the door. "Go away, I'm busy!"

"But can't I come in and listen too?" she asked.

Slowly and mysteriously the door opened. Cousin Robert finally appeared in the brightest plaid jacket Janie had ever seen. He was smoking a huge Dutch pipe and carried a large volume under one arm entitled "A History and Interpretation of Modern Jazz" by somebody with an unpronounceable name.

"You have broken my mood. I was 'stony'."

"You were what?" Janie asked in a whisper. There was something about the atmosphere that made her feel as though she were in some sacred temple.

"You don't need to whisper. It's only eight o'clock. If you will be attentive and quiet I'll let you come in and try to pound something in that empty head of yours."

Janie forgot to be insulted and entered the room on tiptoe. Robert Prescott Harper heaved a deep sigh and started the record over again.

"Stony, my dear child, is an expression that means you are listening absolutely. Nothing enters the ear except the sound of the instrument or the sounds of instruments as they play against one another in varying rhythms."

"Oh, I see," Janie said knowingly and sat on the edge of her bed.

It was twelve o'clock when Janie departed from the hushed halls. Her eyes were shining and her face revealed she was one of the initiated.

"Janie, good heavens, I thought you went to bed an hour ago!" Mrs. Conway exclaimed and then stopped suddenly, looking closely at the peculiar expression on her daughter's face. "What is the matter with you?" she asked.

"Mother, I have been positively stony for a whole hour!" With this ecstatic phrase, she drifted down the hall as though disembodied.

The next morning, Midge called.

"Well," she said.

"Well, what?" Janie replied.

"Well, is he taking me to the Junior Jump, or isn't he?"

"Of course not! We're going to a jazz concert in New York. Really, Cousin Midge, the Junior Jump is for the birds."

"For the who?" Midge sounded bewildered. "And I'm not your cousin." "Birds. Birds. And you are my cousin, creep! We're ALL related, you know."

She Once Had THIN LEGS!

"Now I have Fuller Calves, Shapely Thighs, Hips and Ankles."

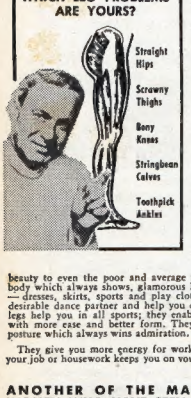
Writes Miss R. U., Cleveland, Ohio

THE most encouraging news for women with thin, under-developed legs has just been revealed by Henry Milchstin, Ph.T. If your thin legs are due to normal causes and you haven't any disease or pathological condition, you should try to attain the strong alluring shapely legs you've always wanted. This well-known physiotherapist, who was President of the Metropolitan School of Physiotherapy and is a member of the New York State Society of Physiotherapists, has an enviable record of helping lovely stage and screen actresses as well as women like yourself to mold beautiful legs. Over a period of 32 years, he has used an amazingly natural method which is unsurpassed by anything we have ever seen.

ORDINARY METHODS FOUND TO HELP LITTLE IN FILLING OUT THIN LEGS

Many women engaged in improper strenuous exercises and calisthenics used up a lot of time and energy but it did next to nothing for rounding out skinny legs.

Other women actually tried weight gaining diets to improve skinny legs. The legs generally gain far less, if anything, in proportion than the rest of the body. Also, adding flabby fat to the legs does not necessarily result in the seductive, shapely curves which men admire and which look so appealing in anything you wear.



IN MANY CASES DOCTORS ADVISE USE OF THIS TECHNIQUE

This Progressive Scientific Method for developing skinny legs is based on the knowledge and experience of the medical profession, physiotherapists and famous body building experts throughout the world.

The wonderful, scientific method is intended to stimulate the tissues and muscle structure of the legs and encourage their development to normally rounded natural contours. When blood circulation is properly stimulated to the point where it helps nourish those lazy tissues, it also tends to tone the skin with a vibrant glow. When each section of the leg has its proper normal shape, the hips possess seductive, feminine curves which men admire, the thighs are superbly rounded, knees are daintily shaped without knobby, bony appearance, the calves fill out with soft curves, and even the ankles are pretty and appealing. Remember, the muscular structure of a woman's leg is basically different from a man's. So that when your legs develop, you only add graceful feminine curves.

"ALL-AROUND GLAMOUR LEGS" HELP WOMEN IN EVERYTHING THEY DO

Most figure experts agree that poor legs spoil an otherwise shapely figure . . . while nicely rounded limbs add an appearance of over-all beauty to even the poor and average figure. Because the legs are the one part of the body which always shows, glamorous legs help you look better in any clothes you wear — dresses, skirts, sports and play clothes, bathing suits, etc. They make you a more desirable dance partner and help you do the latest steps more gracefully. Well-formed legs help you in all sports; they enable you to swim, skate, bowl, play tennis, etc., with more ease and better form. They help you walk and stand with ease, with the posture which always wins admiration.

They give you more energy for work and play, help lessen fatigue, especially when your job or housework keeps you on your feet.

ANOTHER OF THE MANY WOMEN WHO HAVE SEEN RESULTS WRITES HER LEGS LOOK SO MUCH BETTER

AFTER

"My legs look so much better. I would like to express my gratitude for your course. They have helped my legs a great deal."
—writes Mrs. E. W., Monroe, Mich.

WRITTEN ABOUT IN LEADING HEALTH MAGAZINE

HEALTH CULTURE asked this authority on legs to write a series of articles on the fundamentals of this method. This magazine rightly believed that their readers should know about this wonderful technique. Many other leading magazines and newspapers have written about the priceless advantages of correct leg development.

TESTED AND PROVEN METHODS REQUIRE ONLY 15 PLEASANT MINUTES A DAY!

This amazing method has been used by beautiful stage and screen stars, professional models and women in every walk of life. Thousands have gladly paid high fees for personal instruction here in New York City. Now this famous expert makes it possible for any woman to try his method, requiring only 15 minutes a day, right in the comfort and privacy of her own home at a tiny fraction of this cost.

You get the complete, easy, step-by-step illustrated SCIENTIFIC LEG DEVELOPMENT TECHNIQUE with simple instructions for under-developed hips, thighs, knees, calves, ankles; gaining stronger legs; improving skin tone and circulation in legs; normal causes of skinny legs; plus measurement chart for each section of leg according to height and weight; also, how leg development may improve general health. Albert Dorne — probably the greatest money-maker in the history of commercial art. At the height of his career, he began a full-time search for people who like to draw.

He's Looking for People Who Like to Draw

TODAY HUNDREDS of men and women who never thought they could be artists are working happily at easels and drawing boards, making pictures, and getting well paid for it. They all can thank Albert Dorne, a famous artist who devotes almost his full time to helping other people become artists.

Some of the people Dorne has helped

Don Smith of New Orleans is an example. A few years ago, he knew nothing about art, even doubted he had talent. Now he is an illustrator with a large advertising agency.

John Busketta is another. He was a pipefitter's helper in a big gas company. Today he still works for the same company, but as an artist in the advertising department, with a big increase in pay.

Harriet Kuzniewski was bored with an "ordinary" job before she heard of Albert Dorne. Today she does high-style fashion illustration in New York.

With the right training, Wanda Pickulski gave up her typing job to become fashion artist for a local department store.

John Whitaker of Memphis was an airline clerk two years ago. Recently he won a national cartooning contest and was signed to do a newspaper comic strip.

Long before Albert Dorne started looking for people who like to draw, they came to him for advice and help. Since he alone could only help a few of these people he called together America's most successful artists — men like Norman Rockwell, Jon Whitcomb, Stevan Dohanos and Al Parker.

A Plan To Help Others

He said: "All over America, there are people who like to draw, who could be turned into good artists. Why can't we give these people the training they need—including all the trade secrets and know-how we've learned over the years? I'm suggesting a new kind of school—a home-study art school that would give talented people the best professional art training, no matter where they live."

The famous artists agreed. Taking time from their busy careers, they spent several years creating a remarkable series of art lessons covering every aspect of drawing and painting. They illustrated their lessons with over 5,000 "here's-how" illustrations. The lessons start from scratch and cover every skill a top artist needs. Finally, the famous artists developed a wonderful way to give each student personal correction and advice all through his training.

Albert Dorne is not surprised by the success of his students. "The art field is growing. We keep getting calls from all over the country, asking us for practical well-trained students who can step into full-time or part-time art jobs."

Famous Artists Talent Test

To find others with art talent worth developing, the famous artists created a 12-page talent test. Thousands paid $1 for this test, but now the School offers it free and will grade it free. If you show talent on the test, you will be eligible for training by the School. No obligation. Simply mail coupon. It might be your first step to an exciting, well-paid career in art.
